

Question Generator Form

Use this form to develop questions to guide your research. When developing your questions keep in mind:

- Questions starting with who, what, where, when and why from the column on the left in combination with the words in the top row, are, do, would, can, and could, are fairly easy to develop.
- Questions starting with how and which from the column on the left, in combination with the words would, will and might from the top row on the far right, are harder to develop, but lead to more in-depth research.
